Summary for Week 2

As a group for week 2, we started to pick out on who is going to do what in the group as of now (we are going to change up the task for each member so that the work load is equal). Each of us then made our own website, with the design that we picked is the best to better grasp what will look nice (this is without the function of the PHP). We did this because we wanted to know the strengths and weakness of each teammate for the design part. Since we had some midterm for the following week, we did not do much. We then got back together and review what we did.
